PROPERTY OWNERS MEET THE BOARD

ALL DISCUSS SANITARY AFFAIRS

DR. LEWIS MAKES FOUR IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATIONS.

Ponds Should Be Discontinued and Lands Drained and Cultivated—No Danger Yet But Preparing Against It.

In response the call at the last meeting of the County Commissioners, the Sanitary Committee and property owners along Buffalo creek and the water shed, met this morning in the office of the rigister o fdeeds, and heard the report of Dr. Lewis, which was presented by Dr. W. P. Beall.

Dr. Lewis' report, which, was fully concurred in by Drs. Beall and Fox, discusses the cause of malarial, says the crooked streams, along the route, the ponds and reservoirs connected with the mills along the stream, together with the wet, marshy, bottom lands above the mills, were such conditions as to menace the public health, and concludes:

"With due regard to the interests of all concerned these conditions should be abated as soon as possible, with the almost certain elimination of the class of diseases under consideration from that locality in a very few years. To this end I would respectively recommend:"

1. That all the small streams be straightened.
2. That the dams of all ponds be cut, and water needed be piped down and stored in reservoirs.
3. That a certain specified covering be kept over reservoirs.
4. That all marshy land be drained and cultivated.

The second and fourth recommendation of the report should heeded.

The property owners along the route are:

Dr. C. D. McIver, of the Normal.
Wilson Kindley.
Greensboro Water Supply Company.
City of Greensboro, by Z. V. Taylor.
Tyre Glenn.
Garland Daniel.
John Barker.
D. A. Kirkpatrick.
J. W. Lindau.
Finishing Mills.
Proximity Manufacturing Co.
Revolution Mills.
Dr. L. W. Crawford.
Cobb, Scales and Patterson.
W. D. Benbow.
J. W. Fries.
J. T. Ttate.
W . J. Benbow.
Ceasar Cone.

Not all of these were present. The meeting and the discussion were informal. The committee was of the opinion that the recommendations ought to be carried out. Mr. R. R. King, representing the Revolution Mill, said that to break the dam would be a great injury to the company's property, and that the adjacent land could be drained without breaking the dam.

The Committe decided to allow the Revolution Mill to have an enginerr examine the pond and see if the land could be drained without cutting the dam, the report to be made to the committee on the 15h instant.

Races on the Tenth.

The fair people are arranging some races for the tenth of May. Secretary Petty has applied for reduced railroad rates, and if they are secured the races will be brought off. Arrangements are being made to have the horses of A. E. Wooddell of Danville, and Dyer, of Winston. J. H. Ewalt, who has the horses of D. J. T. J. Battle in training at Thomasville, Ga., will come up with a string of half a dozen.

Shy of a Mandamus.

Squire Pierce tried a big case of claim and delivery at the police headquarters this morning, in which one colored lady sought to get some furniture which she claimed belonged to her, but which another lady held contrary to the statute made and provided. Squire Pierce decided that the furniture belonged to the plaintiff, but he said he'd have to rest the case there for awhile. He lowed that this mandamus business is getting pretty ticklish now, and he'd have to think over it awhile before ordering the officer to take the goods, especially, until he got his own fee, which wasn't then in sight.

Another Bar Opened.

G. A. Miller yesterday secured license from the county commissioners to sell whiskey, and this morning opened up in the old stand of R. G. Newcombe on South Elm. There was a determination on the part of the Aldermen of the city that Newcombe should not in any way be connected with any bar in the city. Therefore, before granting license to Mr. Miller they assured themselves that Newcombe was in no way connected with the business. Newcombe, it is said, has a four year's lease on the building and rerents it at a figure which gives him a bonus of $100 per month.

This is the fifth bar to be opened since the dispensary closed.

Bankers' Meeting.

The Executive Committee of the North Carolina Bankers Association met this afternoon at the Guilford Hotel. The object of the meeting is to set the date and make a program for the annual convention to assemble in Asheville in June. The members are:

Lee H. Battle.
J. G. Brown, Raleigh.
J. P. Sawyer, of Asheville, President of the association.
John M. Miller, Asheville.
C. N. Evans, Reidsville.
A .G .Brenizer, Charlotte.
W. G. Montcastle. Lexington.

Federal Court.

Up till this afternoon no case of importance had been tried. The many cases of small violations of the revenue laws which are usually tried at each session of the court are being tried. The case against the three young men of High Point, in jail for counterfeiting, was taken up and is being tried this afternoon.

Dr. Wilson Writes.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

I have just seen the four bronze tablets designed for the Colonial Monument to be erected at the Guilford Battle Ground. They are the prettiest I have ever seen. Each sets forth facts in our colonial history worthy to be taught, and which should be taught to every child in our State. It should afford every lover of our State ground for just pride and congratulation that some of our past history is thus being brought to light and so substatially perpetuated. They are to be seen in the Odell Hardware Company's window. Go and see them.

ALBERT R. WILSON.

Mr. Schiffman Writes.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

Our attention has been attracted by the display of highly artistic bronze plates displayed at Odell's Hardware store on South Elm street.

These plates, which are of excellent workmanship, are to be placed on the monument to be erected at the Guilford Battle Ground and are the conception of Maj- Morehead, whose never ceasing activity, in this commendable cause, has given the citizens of Greensboro and Guilford County another attraction.

S. SCHIFFMAN,
Jeweler.

Mr. J. C. Lassiter went to Danville this afternoon.

GREENSBORO'S HOSPITALITY

A GENTLEMAN RECALLS HOW A STRANGER WAS CARED FOR.

Being Delayed Here With His Bride, He Was Accosted by a Gentleman at the Depot, Who Lavished Upon Him All the Hospitality Due an Honored Friend.

Salisbury, March 30.—A distinguished and interesting visitor in the person of Dr. A. R. Ledoux, of New York, spent last Thursday in Greensboro. Dr. Ledoux is one of the most eminent mining experts in the world and it is said that more valuable mineral properties have been developed and more worthless propositions turned down by moneyed men on the strength of his reports than of any half dozen experts in this country. In addition he is a member of nearly all of the leading societies in which this profession is interested, both of this and of the old countries. Dr. Ledoux met Capt. W. Murdock Wiley, of Salisbury, the latter of whom is prominently connected with the Union Copper Mine here, on professional business and it was while corresponding with Capt. Wiley that he said: "I shall never cease to feel grateful to the good people of Greensboro. Years ago, when I was a member of the faculty of the University of North Carolina, I went north for a bride. I was comparatively unacquainted in this State and when I stepped from the train at Greensboro on my return trip I expected to take the next train to Durham, from which point I would have to travel by private conveyance to Chapel Hill. Imagine my astonishment when a fine looking gentleman approached me and remarked, 'This is Prof. Ledoux, I believe' When I replied in the affirmative he said: 'Let me have your baggage for I have made arrangements to entertain you as my guest for two weeks.' I was totally unacquainted with the gentleman but yielded to his kind invitation, and never in my life have I been treated with such lavish hospitality and consideration. From that day to this I have never lost and opportunity to speak a good word in behalf of Greensboro or Guilford county, nor will I ever forget this experience with the big hearted, hospitable type of the southern gentleman."

The generous hearted host to whom Dr. Ledoux refers was Dr. D. W. C. Benbow of your city, and while the incident may have passed from Dr. Benbow's memory years ago Dr. Ledoux cherishes it as one of the most remarkable examples of hospiality to a stranger that has ever come under his observation, and his deep gratitude recalled Thursday in all its surprising and pleasing phases the happy event.

BREAKING OF THE CLOUD.

The Erection of the Monument is Certain.

If the friends of the Colonial Monument will stop at the window of the Odell Hardware Company's store they well see a sight that will give them much cause for gratification. The sight consists of the four large bronze tablets tablets for the monument. They are extremely handsome and in every way will be worthy of the shaft upon which they will be placed.The tablets were made by Bureau Brothers, of Philadelphia, and are of the finest bronze.

In order that the monument enterprise may not be delayed all those who have already subscribed should pay in their subscriptions at once, and the friends of the cause who have not yet subscribed should do so at once.

This is the Stuff.

In J. M. Hendrix & Co's ad in this paper it will be seen that the shoes manufactured by Johnson & Watson are advertised. Mr. Hendrix says that they are as good as any body's manufacture or a little better. That shows the way things are going in this nect of the woods.

SCRAP IN WILMINGTON.

One Man Gets Swatted for Looking at Another's Wife.

Wilmington, April 1.—A sensational affray occurred in the Orton House corridor yesterday afternoon. The prinpals in the encounter were Judge E. K. Bryan and W. W. Williamson, the latter a traveling man from Philadelphia.

Mr. Bryan is a powerful man and he was getting the best of the Philadelphia man when John Cotton and others interferred and stopped the fight. The drummer struck the first blow and drew blood.

The cause of the encounter is the most delicate part. There are two sides to every question or difficulty. In this case the two sides were plainly apparent in the stories that went around.

Here is the side of Judge Bryan as shown by the accounts of his sympathizers: Judge Bryan looked at the wife of Mr. Williamson. Willianmson testily took him to task for it and blows followed. Somewhat more explicitly—yesterday morning at breakfast at the Orton, Judge Bryan's wife called the attention of her husband to a very pretty waist that Mrs. Williamson was wearing. Judge Bryan very naturally looked at the waist as any other man would have done. At another meal his attention was again called to a pretty garment worn by the Philadelphia lady and he looked again. Soon afterwards a card was sent to his room bearing the name, "W. W. Williamson, Philadelphia." Judge Bryan suspected no trouble and went to see the party. He started to introduce himself to the stranger and the trouble began as described above.

The traveling man's side is as follows: He took it that Judge Bryan had been staring at his wife in an offensive manner. He went to Judge Bryan for an explanation. Judge Bryan wasn't in a concilatory mood, which tended to add to the flames of the irate husband's wrath. Then the Philadelphia man began using his fists and had a blow landed in Judge Bryan's face almost before Judge Bryan could collect his thoughts.

COUNT TOLSTO BANISHED.

All on Account of the Attempted Assassination of Pobiedonostzeff.

St. Petersburg, April 1.—It was rumored several days ago, but generally disbelived that Count Leo Tolstoi had been banished from Russia because of the attempted assassination of Privy Councillor Pobiedonostzeff, chief procurator of the Holy Synod (who was shot at eraly in the morning of March 22, while sitting in his study), the attempt being attributed to a desire for revenge, growing out of the excommunication of Count Tolstoi.

Owing to the indefiniteness of the rumor it was disregarded by the correspondent here of the Associated Press. Now, however, the correspondent has received a private letter from a usually trustworthy source in Vilna, capital of the government of that name, saying that Count Tolstoi was reported to have passed through Vilna, March 26, being escorted to the frontier by the gendarmes.

Millikan's Good Record.

Greensboro Correspondent of the Morning Post.

Marshal Millikan has the satisfaction of knowing that during the past four years he has conducted the affairs of his office in such a manner as to meet the approval of both the public and the Department of Justice. He has given the office his personal attention, inaugurating many needed reforms, several of which have been adopted by the Department of Justice. He has always rendered his accounts and paid the court expenses promptly The government examiner who recently inspected the office closed the report to the department by say ing that the office compared favorably with the office of any marshal in the United States.

Hanna Says "Liar."

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, April 2.—Senator Hanna today called "Al" Johnson, the trolley magnate, and brother of Mayor Elect Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, an "infernal liar," because "Al" said that Hanna had spent $100,000 to defeat his brother Tom.

Russia's Ultimatum.

Washington, April 1.—Information has reached here to the effect that the Russian government, being seriously perturbed by the course of China in not signing the Manchurian agreement largely because of the protest made by the several powers,has conveyed a distinct and unmistakable indication to China that if this course is persisted in there may be an interruption of diplomatic relations between China and Russia and a termination of the present intercourse between them. This is little short of an ultimatum that China must sign or take the consequences of a termination of her friendly relations with Russia. To what extent the United States will take cognizance of Russia's disposition to enforce the signing of the agreement has not yet been made apparent. It appears to be the policy of the Chinese authorities to consider this as a subject which concerns the powers quite as much as it does China. The matter has become further complicated by reports reaching Washington that the Chinese authorities themselves are divided on the course to be pursued, some of the most influential, including Li Hung Chang, urging that acquiescence be given to the Russian proposal, while others insist on rejecting the agreement. The attitude of Li Hung Chang is accounted for by his well known friendliness for Russian interests. In this case, however, there appears to be arrayed against him the strong influence of the Southern viceroys, Chang Chi Tung and Liu Kun Yi, who oppose the signing of the treaty. The reports reaching here this morning showed that the agreement had not been signed.

$5,000,000 for a New Light.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dispatch, 29th.

It is reported here that the Standard Oil Company has closed negotiations for the purchase, at $5,000,000, of a new process for producing light and heat, which was invented by a resident of this city. The promoters of the sale are said to be former Senator Frank Cannon and E. F. Colborne, of Utah, who are now in New York. One of the owners of the new process is said to be W. A. Nelden, en route to New York city.

OLD MEN BET ON DEATH.

A Wager Between Maine Citizens of 94 as to Which Would Live the Longer.

Liberty, Me., March 29.—On the afternoon of New Year's Day, 1901, Judge Judge J. W. Knowlton rode down to the post office for his mail and met Tolman Young, a veteran of the Civil War, who had been confined to his house with dropsy. They fell to conversing about old times, and discovered that both were born in 1807 and were in their ninety-fourth year.

After some bantering as to what they were able to do in the line of physical endeaver the Judge remarked that he was glad to say that he was still vigorous and likely to live for some years atthe same time expressing sorrow that the aged soldier was so feeble.

"Bet you $10 that I'll out live you," cried Young, "and we will put up the money now, the one who lives the longer to have a twenty-dollar wreath on his coffin at his funeral as the result of this wager."

The bet was accepted and the money put in the hands of a trader.

It was the last time that Young ever went outdoors alive. As the winter moved along he grew worse and the doctor said that death could be expected at any time. In March, after his pension money arrived, he sent word to his friend, the Judge, that he was willing to double the bet, but his condition was so hopeless that no attention was paid to the communication.

Judge Knowlton continued hale and active until March 10, when he was stricken down with paralysis. Not knowing how serious the affliction was Young again made overeures toward a bet, but the Judge was unconscious and no heed was given to the defiance.

Mr. Young grew weaker until March 17, when he died. Judge Knowlton cannot survive a week. They were the oldest men in Waldo county.
county.

Among the soldiers who attnded Mr. Young's funeral was Levi Curtis of Dixmont, who served through the war in the First Maine Heavy Artillery, the regiment which holds the record for the number of men killed and wounded and killed in action. He is 83 and is crippled from a wound received at Cold Harbor and paralyzed on the left side. Yet he has during the past twtinter sawed seven cords of hard wood with one hand, making two cuts a stick, and has performed the usual chores about his barn, caring for a herd of cattle and milking four cows.

Three Go Over a Cliff.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 31.—Between 5 and 6 o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. Daniel Patterson, wife of a mechanic, her 12-year-old daughter and Nellie Chase, aged 14, all living in Cold Spring, went for a walk. They stopped on Table Rock, half way up Breakneck Mountain, to watch the forest fires burning on Crow Nest Mountain, across the river. Suddenly the Patterson child slipped and fell over the cliff. The mother sprang forward to save the child and also fell over the rock, both screaming in turn as they fell. Nellie Chase became greatly excited as she saw her friends go over and she, too, fell after them.

Table Rock is 200 feet above tide-water, and the side of the mountain under it is very steep. Nellie Chase fell in the branches of a tree and was uninjured. The Patterson girl was found a few feet away with a broken arm and a cut and bruised body. Mrs. Patterson was found further down the mountain, dead. She had fallen at least 100 feet, and was dashed to death on the rocy side of the hill.

COMMISSARY FRAUDS.

A Number of Persons Arrested in Manila.

Manila, March 31.—Interest in the capture and fate of Aguinaldo is wellnigh overshadowed in Manila by sensational developments, present and prospective of frauds in the commissary department. How widely these extend has not been ascertained,but enough is already known to justify the belief that they are far reaching. Captain Frederick J. Barrows, of the Thirtieth Volunteer Infantry, quartermaster of the Department of Southern Luzon, together with seven commissary sergenats, several civilian clerks,a prominent government contractor, the assistant manager of the Hotel Oriente, the proprietor o fthree of the largest bakeries in Manila, a number of storekeepers, and other persons, have been arrested. The investigation has scarcely begun; but thosuands of sacks of flour a quatity of bacon and wagon loads of other goods, all bearing government marks, have ben found in the possession of unauthorized persons. It is alleged that the contractor in question, who has been doing a business approximating $100,000 per month, has spent huge sums in entertaining officers. A prominent commissary officer is accused of leading a scandalously immoral life. It is asserted that large quantities of steers have been lost or stolen in transit, and there is a shortage in the commissary depot.

New scandals are developed daily. Illicit transactions have been traced back tot June, 1900, and it is possible that there are others of earlier date. The exorbitant tariff on provisions makes the surreptitious sale of commissary suppleies immensely profitable. It is understood that other United States officers may be arrested.

Lieutenant Philip K. Sweet, of the Forty-sixth Volunteer Infantry, is prosecuting the investigation under the direction of Col. Wilder, chief of police.

AN HONEST MEDICINE FOR LA GRIPPE.

George W. Wait, of South Gardiner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough remedy is theonly thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one bottle of it and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medeicine." For sale by A. E. Holton's drug store.

Like Oliver Twist, children ask for more when given One Minute Cough Cure. Mothers endorse it highly for croup. It quickly cures all coughs and colds and every throat and lung trouble. It is a specific for grippe and asthama and has long been a well known remedy for whooping cough. Howard Gardner.

TUESDAY, MARCH 2.

CAN'T BE SHAKEN.

It has for some years been known that his honor, the Sultan, could not be shaken. Nothing less than a man o' war has ever been able to make him move a muscle, and some recent experiences indicate that even this measure is losing is power to make him even take notice. His honor's firmness has often stood him in good stead, but never better than on the occasion spoken of in the following dispatch of yesterday:

The self-control of the Sultan prevented a serious panic among court officials at Constantinople, according to a dispatch received from that city today.

The accident occurred yesterday during the Bairan ceremony at the palace, which was crowded with people of distinction. Suddenly there was a trembling of the palace buildings, just as the high officials were passing before the Sultan's throne.

Terror immediately spread among the occupants of the galleries, including the diplomats, and they ran in great haste from the palace, followed by a throng of people who had lost their heads. The excitement continued to increase.

The band which was officiating at the ceremonies ceased playing, and the musicians, with one accord, rushed for the doors as the rumbling continued and the building seemed about to be thrown down by the seismic disturbance.

The general terror was increased by huge pieces of plaster which fell from the ceiling. So violent was the earthquake shock that several of the chandeliers were shattered and as the glass fell to the floor a condition of panic prevailed.

At this stage of the affair the Sultan himself arose from his throne and took a few steps as though to leave the chamber in a hurry. Apparently by a great effort of will, however, he paused and then his calmness and presence of mind returned. He quietly resumed his seat an dthis action had a quieting effect upon the very much frightened dignitaries. After the Sultan had retaken his seat upon the throne he ordered the ceremonies to proceed, and in a few minutes order was almost restored.

It is believed that the action of the Sultan prevented a loss of life, for those in the building fearing that it would fall and that they would be buried in the ruins,had completely lost their heads. The affair was sufficient to disturb the coolest person there.

After the Sultan had resumed his seat there was a reception as the concluding feature of the ceremonies, and the affair passed without further incident.

This will of course give his imperturbable highness a more stiff upper lip than usual. Hereafter it may be expected that it will take two men o' war to move him.

SOON TO BEGIN BUSINESS.

The Security Life and Annuity Company recently organized in this city, and the first Life insurance company based on the principles of old line insurance ever organized in the State, will be ready to do business in a short while. They would be ready now but for delay in printing and lithographing the large amount of stationery, application blanks, policy contracts, etc., which it is necessary to have prepared. We confess to a good deal of interest in this company, because it is the beginning of an entirely new business in this State, and almost in the South. It is of course but a question of time when the South, throbbing with every pulse of enterprise and business that nourishes other sections, and in many lines going far ahead of these other sections, must do a large part of its own insurance business. For a beginning the time is now ripe. The Security Life and Annuity Company enters the field opportunely; we bespeak for it a cordial welcome, such an one as its business methods, its excellent contract, and its security deserve.

It is is true that Russia has banished Tolstoi, that unhappy country may yet realize the force of the old couplet of Homer living and Homer dead.

HARRISON'S LAST LETTER.

Document Written Just Before His Death Defends the General's Son.

Washington Telegram to the Chicago Chronicle.

The talk in Indian circles which has followed the death of ex-President Harrison has developed the fact that his last semi-public act was to write a vigorous protest against "the injustice of the administration" in the treatment of His son, Col. Russel B. Harrison. After dealing exhaustively with the case, general Harrison wrote these words:

"My family was represented in the war of independence, and has had its representatives in every war in which this country has since been engaged. I have an honorable pride in the record that has been made, and I cannot consent that my son's record, which upon the certificate of a multitude of officers—regular and volunteers— who have served with him, I believe to be absolutely good, shall be left under a cloud of suspicion."

After speaking of the possibility that developments would establish the fact that the administration would refuse to take any steps in the matter toward placing Harrison rightly before the country, Gen. Harrison adds: "In that event—that is, if the injury that I thing has been done to Col. Harrison in the matter of his record is not corrected—I will then consider what further steps can be taken."

Gen. Harrison was incensed at the refusal of a court of inquiry, and in his letter on this subject writes: "I do not think certain officials would want to appear before any court of inquiry and testify, and they will, therefore, see that the request for a court of inquiry will not be granted." In the last letter ever written by Gen. Harrison upon the subject, which occupied all his thoughts during the last ten days of his life, he wrote: "I asked for no favors for my son while he was in the service, and I am asking for no favors now—only justice."

Missed the Czar, Then Killed Himself.

London, April 1.—A dispatch to The Morning Leader, from Kieff, says that an officer of the house hold tried to assassinate the Czar. He fired at his Majesty, but missed and then shot and killed himself.

Express Robbery Still Unsolved.

New York, April 1.—President Hendrix. of the National Bank of Commerce, said tonight hat nothing had been heard respecting the missing $5,000 express package consigned to that institution by the bank of Columbia, at Columbia, S. C., which was found to contain nothing but brown paper.

At the offices of the Adams Express Company, which handled the package for the Southern Express Company, it was stated that no light on the loss had yet been obtained, but that the Southern Express Company had ordered a rigid search of the package. The seals of the package as received here, at the offices of the Adams Company, it was stated, appeared intact, but the theft must have been made somewhere on the way, as the bundle didn't stay in the local office over night, but was delivered last Saturday on its arrival.

A GREWSOME FIND.

Remains of Cliff Dwellers Unearthed by Sergeant Price of the Seventh Cavalry in the White Mountains.

A strange story of the suffocation of an entire village of cliff dwellers about 4,000 years ago is told by Sergt. George E. Price, of the recruiting station, at Denver, to the Evening Post, of that city.

In picturesque Arizona, among the White mountains, not far from Fort Apache, the peculiar race of little climbers once reigned supreme. Among the almost inaccessible cliffs of red sandstone they lived like fugitives, in natural fortresses. The caverns they once inhabited are to-day as they were centuries ago, and in many cases have apparently never been trodden by human foot since the death of their ancient inhabitants. The petrified remains of 400 prehistoric little people were found by Sergt. Price in a vast cave. The Apache Indians, who now inhabit that district, regard the cavern with superstitious dread, and cannot be induced to enter its gloomy portals. No white man had ever set foot there before Sergt. Price and he found its contents undisturbed.

During the spring of 1899, when he was with troop G, Seventh cavalry, and stationed at Fort Apache, in his researches about the country the young soldier discovered the great cave village, with its strange legend. A few miles east of the fort, on the White river, rise some immense cliffs of red sandstone. From the glistening stream the cliffs rise almost perpendicularly to a sheer height of 300 feet. Crevices and little edges of rock form the only footholds for daring climbers. While fishing for trout one day, Sergt. Price noticed high up on the cliff a black hole.

Believing it to be a cave, he at once determined to scale the cliff, and several soldiers volunteered to accompany him. The ascent was exceedingly hazardous and difficult, but after a long climb they reached the hole. Jutting out from the face of the cliff was a natural shelf, about eight feet wide and twice as long.

Just back of the ledge was the entrance to the ancient cave. Under the sergeant's leadership the party entered the cave with torches and lanterns. They explored over four and a half miles of passages and corridors. Many people had once inhabited the winding passages of the cave village. The soldiers penetrated into the furthermost recesses and found a big council chamber far back in the interior of the cliff. As the flickering light of the torches pierced the gloom of the large room the grewsome scene was revealed.

Huddled together on the cold damp floor of stone as if for mutual sympathy and protection, lay the ghastly skeletons of over 400 little cliff dwellers, petrified by their exposure during ages past. A short distance apart from the others lay the frame of the chieftain, leaning against the wall opposite the entrance to the room. His skull was resting upon his breastbone, just as he had died. It seemed to the discoverers that he, perhaps, had died last of them all, and before his spirit fled had taken a final look at his people. Then his chin sank upon his breast, and the people of White River cliff were no more. Scientific observations have shown that these people lived about 4,000 years ago.

Sergt. Price began a systematic questioning of old Indians, and at length adroitly secured the legend of the cavern. Many, many hundred years ago, he was told by the red-skinned sages—and to express their idea of the number they tossed up handfuls of sand into the air — the small men lived in the cliffs. They were at war with other small men who lived at some distance. Battles were frequent, and the tribe which occupied the White River cliffs was worsted.

Many of their best warriors were slain by the clubs and arrows of the enemy. Retreat finally became necessary, and the defeated men hastily scaled the beetling cliff to their home near the summit. Once within the great cave they felt themselves secure from further attacks. They carried with them such scanty supplies as they could quickly gather, and they hoped that in case of siege their corn would last until the siege was raised.

Swarming up over the ledge to the entrance to the cave came their enemies. Several they killed, but were soon driven back from the entrance. Wonderingly, they crouched within its portals. The assailants brought up quantities of wood and piled it high up about the hole in the cliff. Then they kindled a huge fire and never suffered it to abate in fury.

Days passed on and the flames still gleamed brightly on the side of the vast rock. For a fortnight the vigilance never slackened. At length the revengeful army retired, leaving a great pile of ashes on the ledge. No one dared to enter the cavern, and, having accomplished their grim mission, they departed from the section. What agonies the cliff dwellers must have suffered as the pangs of starvation grew keener and keener and always at the only exit they saw the blazing pile!

Every woman in the country ought to know about

Mother's Friend

Those who do know about it wonder how they ever got along without it. It has robbed childbirth of its terrors for many a young wife. It has preserved her girlish figure and saved her much suffering. It is an external liniment and carries with it therefore, absolutely no danger of upsetting the system as drugs taken internally are apt to do. It is to be rubbed into the abdomen to soften and strengthen the muscles which are to bear the strain. This means much less pain. It also prevents morning sickness and all of the other discomforts of pregnancy.

A druggist of Macon, Ga., says: "I have sold a large quantity of Mother's Friend and have never known an instance where it has failed to produce the good results claimed for it."

A prominent lady of Lamberton, Ark., writes: "With my first six children I was in labor from 24 to 30 hours. After using Mother's Friend, my seventh was born in 4 hours."

Words of Advice.

If anybody knows herself to be in a false position let her step out of it. If anybody has been unkind or inconsiderate, or self-absorbed or morbid, or ungenerous, let her quietly kneel down and tell the Lord that she is penitent and ask His forgiveness and then, in His strength, let her turn over her new leaf. But all this should be done quietly—not with a flourish of trumpets.—Margaret E. Sangster, in Ladies' Home Journal.

AN ANCIENT BELIEF

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of siatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

Every year are recording their preferences by purchasing Kimball Pianos. They are each and every one sharing in the economy which results from the purchasing of raw material in great quantities and from the making of all component parts of every instrument under a single operating and selling expense. They are sharing in the benefit of laboring machinery which greatly increases the efficiency of the man's hand and brain.

They are enjoying the exclusive privilege guaranteed under more than fifty United States letters patent, covering improvements which excite the of hundreds of mechanical experts and critics. It is their privilege, use and enjoy instruments which by their pure and lasting tone are charming those musicians who, in the matter of tone production charm the most discriminating audiences of the land.

You can easily avail yourself these opportunities by calling at our warerooms where a complete display of know that we could come as near filling an order for anything in the fancy grocery line as any other house in North Carolina?

Did You

Strangers shopping at our house often express their surprise at finding such an up-to-date and complete grocery store as we can show.

Filling out-of-town orders is a specialty with us and "Scott & Co.," is a household word in many towns in the State where we have been supplying Fine Goods to some of the best families. It's not HOW CHEAH, but HOW GOOD, with us.

INTO THE VAST FOREVER.

What may we carry to the vast forever?
The mystic stair
Admits not gold, nor whatsoever
Of pomp or pride we wear—
These pass not there.

Nor may we take within the sacred portal
Our books and art,
Into the life immortal
No idol of the heart;
With these we part.

We may not carry to the land supernal
Our boasted creeds.
These drop and disappear like blossoms,
And all our deeds
Are poor as weeds.

But character and conscience shall attend us,
The genial flow
Of sympathizing hearts, and sense stupendous
Of happiness or woe
Shall with us go.

For charity's fair form has ever parted
The pearly door
For all the sanctified and holy-hearted
It spreads the golden floor,
For evermore!

Upward from the vast forever
Naked we come.
Lord, clothe us with Thy robe, that we may never
Be put to fear or shame,
Who own Thy name.

Ask we the Pleiades or grand Orion
To lend a ray?
While journeying to the hill of Zion
Thou art the light, the way,
Nor need we stray.

From Thee the glory of the life eternal
Forever beams!
With Thee our days shall glide in joy supreme
Beyond these fading dreams
These failing streams.

—E. A. Adams, in Washington Star.

Cincinnati is figuring on a plan for a permanent exposition. The building is to be fireproof and ten stories high. It is for an attraction for outsiders and a benefit for home merchants and manufacturers.

It has been said that one-half the mortality of the human race is due to malaria, and though this may very well be an exaggeration, figures show the deadly character of the disease and the vast extent of its field of activity.

The X-ray has informed Bishop Potter that he has been going around for 25 years with a broken ankle without knowing it. He hurt his ankle in the Yosemite valley a quarter of a century ago, and now he learns that there are two bones broken in it that have never knit together.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking Scott's Emulsion.

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it don't stop because the weather is warm.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample its agreeable taste will surprise you.

SAVED BY UNDERWEAR.

The Victim Wore Two Suits and Foiled the Efforts of a Tar-and-Feather Gang.

It takes an agile-headed man to get ahead of a tar-and-feather party, and such a man is Edgar Plato, a pianist by profession, and a resident of Topeka, Kan. About six weeks ago Plato, who was divorced, married Mrs. Hamilton, an alfalfa widow, living two miles north of Topeka. After closing the store one night he and his wife started home in a buggy. When they reached the outskirts of North Topeka a gang of masked men stopped the horse, pulled Plato out of the buggy, beat him almost into insensibility, tore his clothes from his body and then painted him with a coat of tar.

As luck would have it, Plato had on two suits of underwear. The gang tore off one and thought they were down to his skin. The tar was therefore spread on his garments instead of his naked body. After treating him in this manner the gang scattered. In the skirmish the masks fell off the faces of three of the men, and Plato and his wife recognized all three.

According to Plato's story, they were P. W. Hamilton, the first husband of Mrs. Plato; William Hamilton, his son, and John Wendell, a brother of Mrs. Plato. Warrants were sworn out for the three men and they were arrested.

Easter Treat for the Oxford Orphans.

The bible says: "Cast not away your confidence which has great recompence of reward." I have great confidence in the people of Greensboro as I got a good sum last year for the orphans at Oxford. All this year there has been something in the way. There has been the India famine, the Texas flood, the M. E. Conference, and last, the West Market church. And am glad to seethat they got it very liberal [illegible] hope the orphans are not left out.

We all have preference on what to bestow our gifts, some one thing, and some another, but the majority are willing to help the orphans and that is just what God tells us to do. He has put a curse on those that afflict them, and a blessing on those that help them. You will be supprised if you read the bible carefully, to see how many times the orphan is mentioned and it seems to me that anything that is so precious in the Lord's mind, ought to be in ours. I do not want, or intend to beg for them, but give the people the privilege of being happy.

I think if there is anything in the world to make one happy, it is that he or she has helped to make a little orphan happy. Had we children left without father or mother, would we not like for them to be made happy? Therefore, "as ye would that others should do unto you, do ye also to them."

I expect to get 60 dozen eggs from the country and send them for their Easter treat so that every one that feels an interest in them can think that on that blessed Easter morning the orphans at Oxford have all the eggs they can eat.

If any one wants to help, they can leave their contributions at The Telegram or Record office, C. M. Vanstory's, W. E. Coffin's, or hand it to me, and you will feel good. I would also like to get $250 for them.

Martin's Embezzlement Grows.

News and Observer.

The Martin embezzlement of public funds continues to grow in amount.

The $12,000 of Saturday has gone up to $15,000, and the end of the examination of the books is not yet finished.

Nobody, save possibly Maj. Martin, can guess what the total sum will be when the investigation has been completed. Many are predicting that it will reach three or four times the sum now known to have been taken by him.

The wonder of it all is that hesuccessfully eluded detection for so long a time. It is reasoned that if he could have stolen $15,000 or more from the penitentiary fund, he could have done the same with the other public institution funds in his hands with equal ease.

Ex-Treasurer Worth holds a bond of $5,000 a year from Martin, in a surety company. Up to this amount for each year Worth is safe, but any over it for any one year, Worth and his bond are liable.

RHEUMATISM | CATARRH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure ond so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.
